Nurturing a Daily Islamic Routine
for Your Child in Modern Times

Hello and Salam Aleikum, my name is Sefau and I am the founder of thefaushop. I am a German-born African Muslim and mum of a 3-year-old son. My main goal is to support mothers in awakening their child's interest in Islam from an early age through customizable artwork.

When my son was born, I wanted to introduce Islamic faith to him as soon as possible. With this in mind, I searched for Islamic artworks that I could hang in his nursery, but I couldn't find anything of high quality. Eventually, I decided to collaborate with talented Muslim sisters who created beautiful designs in different sizes, colors, and personalization options. We printed them on high-quality museum-grade paper and framed them in real wood frames, so the artwork is ready-to-hang and keeps children immersed in Islam during art.

If you want to awaken your child's early interest in Islam, strengthen their Islamic identity while your supporting a good cause. Then start your child's Islamic Routine with our custom Islamic Wall Art and the help of the guideline from our eBook.

Guidance for Nurturing a Daily Islamic Routine for Muslim Modern Mothers and Their Children Using Islamic Wall Art from thefaushop

Creating a meaningful and consistent Islamic routine for your children can have a profound impact on their spiritual growth. By incorporating Islamic wall art from thefaushop, you can infuse your home with reminders of Allah's teachings. Follow this guidance to nurture a daily Islamic routine that will strengthen your children's faith and connection with their Creator:

Step 1: Setting the Foundation

* Understand the Power of Visual Reminders: ****

Islamic wall art serves as visual reminders of Allah's guidance in your home. thefaushop offers a range of high-quality, customizable wall art pieces that feature Quranic verses, Hadith, and meaningful Islamic messages.

* Select the Right Wall Art: ****

Choose pieces that resonate with your child's age and understanding. Opt for designs that capture their attention while conveying the essence of the teachings.

Step 2: Establishing the Routine

 Choose a Dedicated Time: **

Set a consistent time each day for your Islamic routine. This could be after meals, before bedtime, or any other time that suits your family's schedule.

 Select Relevant Verses or Hadith: **

Pick a short Quranic verse or Hadith that aligns with your child's experiences and values. thefaushop's wall art collection provides a variety of options to choose from.

Step 3: Engaging with Islamic Wall Art

 Introduce the Teaching: **

Each day, introduce the chosen verse or Hadith to your child. Explain its meaning in a way that is relatable and easy for them to understand.

 Reflect and Discuss: **

Spark a conversation about the teaching. Ask questions like, "How can we apply this in our daily lives?" or "What does this mean to you?"

Step 4: Making the Routine Interactive

 Visualize with Wall Art:

Display the corresponding Islamic wall art piece from thefaushop that represents the teaching. Let your child engage with the visual representation.

 Interactive Activities:

Create activities related to the teaching. For example, if the teaching is about kindness, encourage your child to perform small acts of kindness each day.

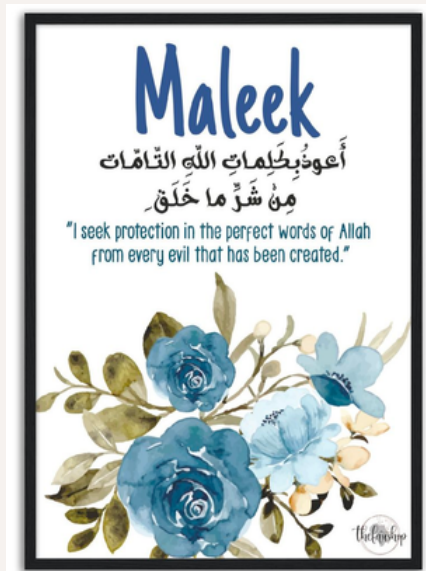

Step 5: Building Lasting Connections

 Supplication (Dua):

Teach your child a simple dua that complements the teaching. This dua can be a way for them to communicate their feelings to Allah.

 Encourage Personal Reflection:

As your child interacts with the Islamic wall art, encourage them to reflect on how the teaching relates to their own life.

Step 6: Consistency and Flexibility

 Stay Consistent:

Keep the routine consistent, but be understanding of busy days. Even a few minutes each day can make a difference.

 Adapt as They Grow:

As your child's understanding deepens, choose more complex teachings and engage in deeper discussions.

Brand Story thefashop – deen and dream little muslim

Headquartered in Germany, thefashop's roots are from a Muslim community in Togo. Our mission is to support parents in installing joy, love, peace, and unity in our beloved children.

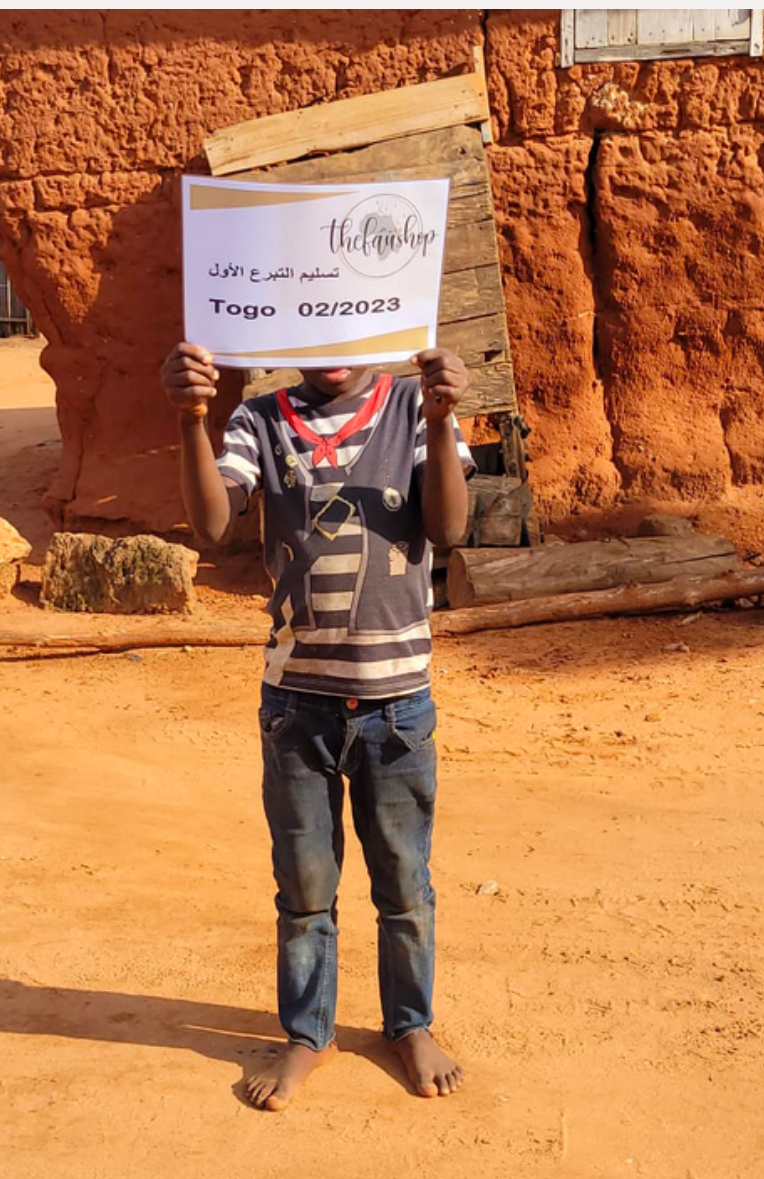

Like the honorable clients we serve, we take great pride in celebrating the core values of the Islam. The beauty of Islamic and African culture and traditions are often misconstrued on an international level. This leaves parents feeling disconnected and our children straddling the tensions of their multicultural perspective. With our premium artwork, you ensure that your children are immersed daily in the uplifting words of the most grateful, Allah.

Our designs are the ideal balance of modern and traditional, with creative options that grow with your children as their interests evolve. No matter their age, personality, or hobbies we have a design that will stylize and personalize their bedroom or play space. Our creative team works diligently and enthusiastically on expanding our decorative product range.

With every purchase made, we donate a part of our proceeds to underserved international communities —particularly communities on the continent of Africa. By partnering with aligned non-profits, your purchase contributes to empowering sustainable economic independence. This continuous flow of love and support is the foundation on which change, and equity are built.

We are individuals, but we are one. With thefaushop’s artwork, you are reminded that we remain together everywhere in the world.
